NOVEMBER WORK PARTY

The November work party group completed the new steel fence along the pistol bays. This consisted of over 1700 feet of steel posts(over 200 posts) topped with # 5 rebar. The installation of the posts and rebar is complete and only a small amount of welding needs to be done for final completion. The top rebar rail will be painted white in the spring for a better visual impact. COSSA thanks all of the members that participated in the fence construction over the last 3 months. This month's work party also did the usual range cleanup and repair, Thanks all.

PMP NOVEMBER TURKEY SHOOT

A GOBBLER IN HAND IS WORTH TWO IN THE BUSH!

By Pete Pedone

Whisperin' Wade won both the match and one of the two turkeys. The other gobbler was won by frontier cartridge gunfighter, Tetherow Tex La Rue. Yours truly missed the turkey target (clay pigeon), but managed to kill the turkey prop—not to feel bad—it was not the first time, and he was not the only one! Five Stages were shot, three of which were designed by Cascades Annie, and the other two by Palaver Pete. GDub and Diamond Willow again did the scoring, and all the ladies helped set the table with Hotdogs and Macaroni and Cheese. Lemon Bars topped the desert tray, and all shooters enjoyed the heat within the club house, provided by a real old time western pot bellied stove.

Sunrise Bill came in second, followed by Palaver Pete and Buffalo Wings Bryan. Despite keeping score as well as shooting, GDub was fifth on the ladder, managing to keep her mind on transition and movement as well as iPad management. Tetherow Tex LaRue and Arctic Annie came next in line, and Cascades Annie won the Ladies 49er Category with a blistering score of 27.59 on stage four. Cherokee Sam won the BP Frontier Cartridge Category, and the Legend was top Senior Gunfighter. Ms. Sunrise B proudly demonstrated her rapid improvement by winning the Classic Cowgirl Category with calm determination—good going gal, you will soon be one of our top lady shooters. Three Shooters shot clean matches: Whisperin' Wade, Palaver Pete, and Sunrise Bill. Visiting Shooter Sergeant Tater who is a relatively new Cowboy Action Shooter did very well by taking the Silver Senior Category.

*Cherokee Sam cleans another stage as Timer/RO
Buffalo Wings Bryan keeps an eye out for safety*

The Posse's next shoot will be Sunday, December 13th, followed by a Christmas party and lunch at the Phoenix restaurant. More information will be provided by our Telegraph Operator, Diamond Willow, and also posted on our website. DECEMBER ORIENTATION

Orientation for December is on the 19th at 10 AM. Any current members that wish to attend contact Bill Lewis, 541-480-4695

MYSTERY OF THE WALKING SAND BAGS

It looks like the sand bags are walking off from the Fockler sight in range. We need more sand bags for several of the ranges. Any donated sandbags would be appreciated. Also, any old jeans needed to make more sand bags can be brought to the next general meeting or left in the training center at the range.

RANGE CLOSURE

Notice: Due to misuse, the Pistol Silhouette range is only open for scheduled events. Casual usage is no longer permitted. Anyone found using the Pistol Silhouette without prior permission will be asked to leave.

WE LOST A COWBOY-- AMERICA LOST AN ENTREPRENEUR DAN ROHRER, 6/4/35—11/7/15

By Pete Pedone

He was a cook on a U.S. Navy Submarine during the Cold War. He was the owner of a manufacturing company employing 7 people located in Prineville. He was a loving father, and a “go to” fix-it man for Cowboy Action Shooters in Central Oregon. Dan Rohrer, AKA: Silver Dan, in cowboy circles, was a member of both the Horse Ridge Pistoleros and the Pine Mountain Posse. He was dearly loved by members of both clubs. He shot slow and deliberate using several of his 180 firearms he collected over the years. His pride and joy was a Crown Grade LC Smith SxS 12 gauge shotgun, followed closely by an original Winchester 1873 in caliber 22 short. His firearms collection was housed in a steel lined vault like room in his home. No one dared enter it without Dan close at hand.

Silver Dan didn't just pick up and leave us—no, after giving it considerable thought, he left us for a venue he thought would be more challenging than the one he had already mastered here on earth. Dan held several patents—one of which is the air powered fence post driver, which his company sells worldwide (see www.rohrermfg.com). His genius could easily be compared to that of Carbine Williams who, while in prison, designed the gas operated, semi-automatic rifle better known as the M1 Carbine—Dan also made firearms. If you asked Dan to design something for you, he would more than likely have it done by the next day.

Here is a testimonial to Dan's genius and his willingness to help friends: “Years ago, when we first joined HRP, and we were hosting the NW Regional, I had a broken firing pin on my double shotgun. I called Dan up in a panic. Knowing he was a machinist, and in the true giving fashion that Dan was known for, he said ‘come on out to his place and he'd see what he could do.’ He disassembled my shotgun, took the good pin out and we went out to his shop. He picked a piece of tool steel and began to grind me a new one while I watched. When he was finished, and he checked the diameter and whether it would fit smoothly in the gun, he grouched that it was .002 out of diameter! Dan was a perfectionist, and it bugged him that it wasn't exact. The funny part was that the new firing pin made from hardened tool steel would likely outlast the original, and would probably outlast the life of the shotgun! Dan was a character, both in Cowboy Action, and outside as well. I will miss him quite dearly. Happy trails my friend, rest-in-peace” (Wildcat Annie).

Okay, finally, listen up Dan, more testimonials from your friends will appear in the obituary provided to the Single Action Shooting Society. Also, your Son Danny will take care of the shop. Your daughter will fill your house with joy, and Connie will talk about you at the Powell Butte Post Office—you won't be forgotten for a very long time. Until we meet again, we hope you can tell everyone there we'll be along soon, and as usual, ‘Hell will be coming with us.’ PP.
